A festive country. Traveling in Korea is like participating in an ongoing celebration, both for past glories and the achievements of the modern era. One of the wonders of the country is that in spite of generations of invasion and occupation by neighboring countries its culture is distinctly Korean and not just an Oriental potpourri. You will feel this distinction as you visit ancient palaces in tranquil gardens, examine celadon vases and gold crowns unearthed from royal tombs or photograph a lively farmers' dance at a folk festival.

While preserving traditions, Korea has allowed for the new, especially in the realm of tourism. 1. I wish to personally congratulate you on your recent success during the ORI. Your conduct, as Commander, has been exemplary and you are commended for it. The performance of your unit was a major contributing factor in maintaining the Hq 252 Cmbt Comm Gp's claim as the best Combat Communications Group in the U.S. Air Force.

2. You accepted a challenge so difficult and demanding that only true professionals could have succeeded. It is important that every member of your unit is aware of the magnitude of this achievement. Without the extreme effort of every member, the possibility of failure was always present. I am very proud to have such capable Commanders. You have set a standard that cannot be matched by any other Group.

3. You should give serious consideration to reward especially deserving players with the AFCEM or AF Special Achievement Medal. Again, my sincerest congratulations for a job well done.

Dear Dick:

Unfortunately, I was unable to attend the 14th Annual Youth Leadership Camp at Rilea jointly sponsored by the Oregon National Guard and the Housing Authority of Portland. Had my schedule permitted, I would have appreciated the chance to join in on the Visitor's Day Festivities. I'd like to thank you, however, for the hospitality and welcome shown my District Administrative Assistant, Michelle Giguere, at the Camp.

I've been deeply impressed by the HAP/Guard Camp over the years, and that impression has been reinforced again after hearing Michelle's enthusiastic overview of all that this year's camp accomplished. I'd like to commend you and the entire Guard for the many contributions you have made to this worthwhile endeavor. Together with the Housing Authority you've made what is probably a unique cooperative effort a complete success time and time again. The values that the campers learn, the friends they make, the fun they have -- all are so important. And for many of the campers, coming from disadvantaged backgrounds, the time they spend at Camp Rilea with so many dedicated and energetic people, will make a positive change in the direction of their lives.

I strongly support the continuation of these camps, and if I can ever be of any assistance, please don't hesitate to let me know.

On another note, Dick, I'd like to address another item. And that's the excellence shown by both the 244th Combat Communications Squadron and the 244th Combat Communications Flight during their recent operational readiness inspection. I know full well what a gruelling experience those inspections can be, and what high standards have to be met to rate an "excellent" review.

I regret that I wasn't able to visit the 244th at Camp Rilea. But I do hope you'll pass on my deep respect and congratulations to all members of the 244th, and particularly Commanders Colonel Keith Hallmark and Major Alan Stoller. They must be doing a top notch job to rate such high marks and it reflects well on you and the entire Guard here in Oregon.

As a member of the Defense Appropriations Committee, it makes me proud to know how well the crews back home are doing. I know you'll continue to uphold such a fine tradition of excellence in the future.

I hope to have a chance to visit with you sometime soon, but in the meantime, please don't hesitate to contact me should I be able to assist you.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,
